MeetingOne® Announces Enhanced Online Account Management (OAM)

DENVER – MeetingOne's Online Account Management (OAM) application went into pre-release testing on Monday, May 16, 2011! OAM is our enhanced customer portal that provides customers more control in managing their audio conference rooms, both at an account level and room host level. Account administrators are now able to easily add, change or delete audio conference rooms under their account, as well as manage account level settings, while room hosts are able to view and manage their individual room settings. OAM also incorporates existing online features, such as recording download and Click&Meet directory upload, into a single portal. Customers no longer need to log into each feature separately; they are all accessible within OAM.

Pre-release participants will have the opportunity to help shape next generation services provided by MeetingOne. If you're interested in being a pre-release participant, please contact your MeetingOne account representative.
